A story more about friendship with pets than the story of Christ. It's filled with beautiful pictures, and is based on a legend of a cat living in the stable in Bethlehem. It was inspired by the author's childhood trip to an art museum with a picture drawn by Leonardo da Vinci of Mary, Jesus, and the cat.

The Christmas Cat by Peter Scottsdale is a heartwarming short story. When Fred finds a kitten on his doorstep on a cold Christmas Eve, he decides to take her in. The presence of the cat then reminds him that he does not need to be alone, especially at Christmas. Peter Scottsdale made me have "the feels" with this story.
